Lightroom 5 has a new and interesting interface. Entirely different from previous versions, Lightroom 5 is now entirely a Photoshop-like toolset. The design philosophy of the interface is the same as Photoshop's mobile version: a size that is comfortable for quick access to specific tools. Directly from the CS6 Photoshop Blog: "...our newest update to CS6, Photoshop 2023, gives you the basic tools to make bold adjustments to the color and tone in your images." In addition to existing tools, Photoshop 2023 introduces the following:

- Red Eye Correction—Correctly fix flaws in the eyes, such as dark circles, redness, puffy eyes and other red areas. This control has been completely re-engineered for speed, accuracy and overall performance. The new tools put the spotlight on these areas, and can easily be applied to other areas as well.
- Spot Healing Brush—Make changes without affecting the rest of the image by healing small objects like hair, teeth, small blemishes or defects.
- Local Adjustments controls—We gave local adjustments the makeover they deserve. The ability to quickly make live adjustments while working on an image means you can adjust the fine details of an image, without changing the entire image. Refresh the changes with the Adjustments panel or simply ctrl-d to reapply.
- Clarity—A new tool in Photoshop that enables a similar style of image enhancement as a technique used in camera systems including Nikon's D3S and D4S. Makes it easier than ever to remove stains, dust, unwanted objects or other imperfections from the digital image but without blurring the image or changing the fine details.
- Improved Local Tone and Adjustment Brush tools which now offer much faster application, make it easy to accurately adjust and refine overall levels of colors and tones within an image, and helps you to find the right look for your final output.

Lightroom has a native way to upload pictures directly to your social networks, such as Facebook, Twitter and Tumblr. Select the image and press the Generate button. Then, choose the options you'd like appear. When done, click Done to upload the image. If you create the same image multiple times with different editing, you will see the difference between your selected and your unselected images with the same name. Whereas in Photoshop, if you view the same image's original version and selected edits you will see that you did not save your "Patcher" edits with the photo. It's possible to add a little information to your images. For example, if you want to add a local address to the top left corner of a picture, you can use the "Eyedropper" tool to select the right color and the Type tool to add text. You will find this useful to remind you about the place where you were when you took a photo. It's also possible to create clippings, a closing effect to depict a certain place. To add a few frames to a photo, you can use the "Lasso" tool to mask out a part and afterwards draw a line to add a new frame. You can work on a group of photos simultaneously to make a collage. It is important to know the difference between fully optimized and unoptimized graphics. The first is an interface that is more resistant to the effect of the handicap that handicap and the second is the only key to good performance. With fully optimized graphics, we recommend that you format it with 2500 dpi. You can create a GIF or JPEG file if you want in this module. e3d0a04c9c
